

TOP TEN SIMPLE INVENTIONS THAT DIDN'T CHANGE THE WORLD.

BOOB TUBE

Patented 1992. This foul weather suit is designed to protect you while allowing a clear view for your fellow spectators.

BUNNY SYRINGE

Patented 1967 The Bunny Syringe was invented to ease the inevitable for the kid and the doctor.

CRANIAL GREETING CARD

Patented 2000. Now you can look like a cartoon character with your own head-hovering thought balloon!

GERBIL SHIRT
Tired of leaving your small pets at home? The Gerbil Shirt wraps your torso in plastic gerbil passageways.

DIMPLE DRILL
Patented 1896. To produce the dimple, simply press the Dimple Drill's tip on the desired area and turn the knob.

LEAF CHAPS
Patented 2003. With the ingenious Leaf Chaps, you can shuffle your way to a clean yard as the webbing gathers leaves into a pile.

TOILET SNORKEL
Patented 1982. Avoid smoke inhalation in a fire by snaking a snorkel through your toilet, so you can breathe (albeit sewer air).

STUD SPECTACLES
Patented 2003. A new way to hang eye glasses on your face, by using body piercing studs!

INSECT BALLS
Patented 1990. Spray a ball with insect attractant, and you now have a herd of gnats hovering less annoyingly above your head.

BOAT BALL
Patented 1973. Unlike your everyday boat that drags through the water, this giant motorized ball floats over the surface.

ANTIBODY
SIMPLIFY

XXth in series